

2009 MAYORS' CULINARY CUP

Restaurants are critical elements in any community. They are places for celebrating milestones, visiting friends or conducting business. They contribute to philanthropic causes or conduct community service. And many support local initiatives, such as those launched by their mayors.

Those restaurants deserve recognition. So the National Restaurant Association, the U.S. Conference of Mayors and The Culinary Institute of America have created a new award, the Mayors' Culinary Cup. The award will recognize those who contribute to their communities by supporting mayoral programs or initiatives.

The winner will be announced in January 2010, at a high-profile luncheon during the U.S. Conference of Mayors' winter meeting in Washington, D.C. The winner will create a signature dish with a CIA master chef for the luncheon. The dish will be used to promote the program and culinary excellence in the United States. The winner also will receive a free trip to Washington, D.C., for the ceremony.
