

THE MUNICIPAL WASTE MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION (MWMA) is the environment affiliate of the United States Conference of Mayors. Like the United States Conference of Mayors, MWMA is both a resource and forum for it's members and encourages the country's top solid waste and public works directors, environmental commissioners, and recycling professionals to exchange best practices and ideas, explore innovations and new technologies, and address the issues critical to your city's success. MWMA members share cost saving solutions, identify industry trends, and have candid dialogues regarding city public works, solid waste, and environmental operations and infrastructure.

Designed around the issues important to MWMA members, the 2010 Fall Summit, September 29-October 1st in Baltimore, MD, allows your senior level environmental staff to hear from issue experts, gives them access to industry practitioners, and provides an opportunity for them to learn with and from their municipal colleagues. This year, sessions include:

- The Urban Summit- A one of a kind forum allows public sector attendees to have a candid conversation about the issues, challenges and trends important to them.
- Recycling Trends- Take an in-depth look at what's new in the area of Recycling.
- Fleet Management and Maintenance
- Green Buildings and Sustainable Development
- Benchmarking
- Legislative Update
- New Technologies
- Disaster and Crisis Management
